ICO consultation on the draft right of access guidance

Q1 Does the draft guidance cover the relevant issues about the right of access?

☒ Yes

☐ No

☐ Unsure / don't know

If no or unsure/don't know, what other issues would you like to be covered in it?

Q2 Does the draft guidance contain the right level of detail?

☐ Yes

☐ No

☒ Unsure / don't know

If no or unsure/don't know, in what areas should there be more detail within the draft guidance?

It would be useful to have more detail around not having to take proactive steps to discover a SAR has been made. We have received Subject Access Requests through portals which include the name of the individual but require sign up in order to view the identification of the individual. In this instance the SAR has been made but proactive steps are required to identify the individual.

Q3 Does the draft guidance contain enough examples?

☐ Yes

☐ No

☒ Unsure / don't know

If no or unsure/don't know, please provide any examples that think should be included in the draft guidance.

More examples of what can be defined as a 'manifestly unfounded or excessive' subject access request would be useful.

Q4 We have found that data protection professionals often struggle with applying and defining 'manifestly unfounded or excessive' subject access requests. We would like to include a wide range of examples from a variety of sectors to help you. Please provide some examples of manifestly unfounded and excessive requests below (if applicable).

Q5 On a scale of 1-5 how useful is the draft guidance?

1 - Not at all useful	2 – Slightly useful	3 – Moderately useful	4 – Very useful	5 – Extremely useful

Q6 Why have you given this score?

News UK found the draft guidance very useful and coherent. More examples would have improved our score to a 5.

Q7 To what extent do you agree that the draft guidance is clear and easy to understand?

Strongly disagree	Disagree	Neither agree nor disagree	Agree	Strongly agree
