We have handled your request under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (the FOIA).

Response

We do not hold any information that falls within scope of your request.

Information about casework is retained in line with our retention policy, which means that in most cases it will not be retained longer than two years.

Some older information can be found on archived versions of our website. However, the period you have enquired about is likely to predate our digital records. With this in mind we have searched our manual records (including those retained by the ICO and those which have been transferred to the National Archives) but we were unable to locate any information matching the description given in your request.

This concludes our response to your request.

Next steps

You can read a copy of our full review procedure on our website.

If we perform a review but you are still dissatisfied, you can complain to the ICO as regulator of the FOIA. This complaint will be handled just like a complaint made to the ICO about any other public authority.

You can raise a complaint through our website.

Our privacy notice explains what we do with the personal data you provide to us, and sets out your rights. Our Retention and Disposal Policy details how long we keep information.
