Reasons for decision

7. The Commissioner considers that the request in question constituted a valid request for recorded information under FOIA. This is because it was in writing, included an address for correspondence and identified recorded information that the requester wished to receive
8. From the evidence presented to the Commissioner in this case, it is clear that, in failing to issue a response to the request within 20 working days, the public authority has breached section 10 of FOIA and it must now issue a substantive response within 35 calendar days.
9. The public authority may find the Commissioner's guidance on request handling and request handling flow chart helpful when preparing its response.
