Q2 Does the draft guidance contain the right level of detail?

Yes

No

Unsure / don't know

If no or unsure/don't know, in what areas should there be more detail within the draft guidance?

Q3 Does the draft guidance contain enough examples?

Yes

No

Unsure / don't know

If no or unsure/don't know, please provide any examples that think should be included in the draft guidance.

Q4 We have found that data protection professionals often struggle with applying and defining 'manifestly unfounded or excessive' subject access requests. We would like to include a wide range of examples from a variety of sectors to help you. Please provide some examples of manifestly unfounded and excessive requests below (if applicable).

We are dealing with one at present where an employee has listed a large amount of departments for the SAR team to approach and request the members of these departments to undertake searches for personal data contained within their e-mails pertaining to the requester. Some of these departments include 100+ persons (i.e. Finance, Payroll, Scheduling etc.).

Q5 On a scale of 1-5 how useful is the draft guidance?

1 - Not at all useful	2 – Slightly useful	3 – Moderately useful	4 – Very useful	5 – Extremely useful

Q6 Why have you given this score?

This guidance is far more useful than pre-GDPR guidance documents. And thank you - finally some clarification around manifestly unfounded and excessive! Hallelujah!

Q7 To what extent do you agree that the draft guidance is clear and easy to understand?

Strongly disagree	Disagree	Neither agree nor disagree	Agree	Strongly agree
